Jemez Mountains Electric Cooperative recently donated used computers to McCurdy Schools.

The computers were donated to McCurdy schools and will be utilized by students for educational purposes.

“Our computers at the school are seven to eight years old and presently, we are having many problems with the machines”

“The students will be delighted to work on newer and more-reliable computers”.

Jeannie Heacock

McCurdy Schools Teacher

said Jeannie Heacock a teacher and IT administrator at McCurdy Schools.

Jeannie said “ the students will be delighted to work on newer and more-reliable computers”.

In an effort to replace the old fleet of personal computers and deploy new computer systems, the JMEC information technology department undertook the initiative to prepare the used units for disposition to the McCurdy schools.

30-Year Service Anniversary

Anthony Padilla was acknowledged at the Co-op with a plaque commemorating his 30 years of service with JMEC.

Anthony started with Jemez Mountains Electric Cooperative, Inc. in 1980 as a Meter Reader. At his present capacity as Consumer Service Person, Anthony performs meter reads, connects and disconnects, and can be seen on a daily basis from one end of the Espanola Valley to the other performing his assigned functions. "I have seen many changes and improvements in my 30 years here at the Co-op" says Anthony.

Anthony Padilla

Anthony and his wife live in Chamita, New Mexico where they make their home with their family. Congratulations Anthony!
